

SUBJECT INDEX TO PAPERS READ BEFORE THE LITERARY CLUB
1864 – 1924

Numbers indicate volume and page of the Archives
M – Minutes; s – Hinkle Scrapbooks; W – Wilby Scrapbooks

The following subject index is a transcription of that published in The Literary Club of Cincinnati, 1849 – 1924, Cincinnati, The Ebbert and Richardson Co., Publishers, n.d. This volume was published for the 75th anniversary of the Literary Club, October 29, 1924. “The index to the archives is the work of Misses Mary J. Hirst and Esther L. Hutchins, of the Cincinnati Public Library....Owing to the incompleteness of the Club Records, [the index] refers to no papers read before 1864, and for the same reason it may omit papers read since that time [i.e., up to 1924].”

This electronic version of the index was made by scanning the text of the 1924 volume and converting the resulting file to text by use of optical character recognition software. The text was then edited, using MS Word. In the course of this process, there is little doubt, errors will have crept in. The fault is mine.

Since the index is already available in printed form, a fellow member might ask why one would go to all this trouble. A few simple searches will answer that question. A search under the word “Taft,” for example, will reveal all of the subjects on which any or all of the Taft family members wrote. A search under “war “ (the space is useful, as you will find) will unearth everywhere in the index in which subjects relating to war are covered.
