

(editor's note: This paper was transcribed from a handwritten cursive copy with various difficulties. For a perfect rendition, the reader might wish to consult the original, itself a copy, in the volume entitled Literary Club Papers 2, 1886 – 1887 June 5, '86 to May 21, '87)

There are two poems here that are translations without attribution. They are not transcribed here for the reason that they are not, apparently, the work of literary club members.

Fortunio's Song is a poem by Alfred de Musset – see page 317 of the above referenced volume

Svend, a Norse ballad is on page 318
